

Book 3 of the New Human Intercession

Dru Delaney, a planetary Leader on Delmorna, has her work cut out for her: save a hidden race of humans from a deadly virus, stabilize her shaky government, thwart a merciless woman's scheme to take over the leadership, and avoid Jak Exo – her lover, her enemy, and a man-machine 'blend'.

Along the way she may have to fight a war, adopt a small child, be kidnapped and escape ... and discover her own humanity among the cloned humans she's vowed to help.

On a planet where love in long-term relationships is nonexistent, can a man who is almost human and a woman who doubts her own abilities find a life together?
